Professor Colin Thomson

An introduction to ethical approval of human research in Australia: principles and processes

Date and Location

Wednesday, 18th March
Training Room, AHSRI,
12:30 - 1:30pm
Light refreshments will be provided

Professor Thomson will explain the origins, aims, principles and processes of ethical review of human research in Australia. He will assist researchers to understand the ethical review criteria and how they can fulfill their important responsibilities to meet those criteria when completing an application.

Professor Thomson is Academic Leader; Health Law and Ethics in the Graduate School of Medicine and one of Australia’s leading experts in health ethics. He was Chair of the Australian Health Ethics Committee of the National Health and Medical Research Council (NHMRC) from 2006-2009 and a member of that committee from 1998-2002.

RSVP - for catering purposes

juliedc@uow.edu.au